THE CHINESE CONCESSION.

AN AMERICAN SYNDICATE'S CONTRACT WITH CHINA.

The London Standard Declares That Foreign Capitalists Stand Aghast at the Magnitude of the Concession—What They Are so Far as Definitely Settled.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Standard prints a long dispatch from Shanghai, concerning the American invasion of China. In speaking of the extent of the concessions obtained the dispatch says: "The result unrattled so far by the American syndicate, although finally accepted by the Chinese viceroy, is practically as follows:

A loan of two and a half million taels, or over half a million pounds at three per cent, has already been contracted to be advanced by the syndicate to the imperial board of Telegraphs, the syndicate to supply all materials and to fix up a new long distance telephone system between the principal open ports. In addition to this another of a million taels, or two hundred thousand pounds, is contracted to be advanced to the Viceroy for some purpose not made public, but which, for convenience, is called "special purposes."

"These are the concessions so far definitely settled. But those following, viz: The tentative propositions and by far the most important are, first, the establishment of what is called in the negotiations a national and international amalgamated bank under imperial charter and supplied by American-Chinese funds with a stupendous capital, mostly, however, American money. This institution is to have peculiar and exclusive rights, monopolies and various other like considerations from the imperial government. It is agreed and covenanted that it will supply, manage and control the entire finances of the imperial and provincial government, collect and disburse the entire imperial treasury funds, provide the sinews of war for all such measures of the government as the building, construction and maintenance of forts, fleets, arsenals, navies, guns, railways, telegraphs, canals, etc., throughout the empire.

"It will provide for the army, the drainage, river improvements, and to put it briefly, everything for which the government of such a country as China requires money. The bank will have the exclusive right to coin all money and issue notes, and it is intended as preliminary to these astounding operations that this institution should establish branches in all Chinese cities of importance, as well as in many cities on the other four continents with which China has diplomatic or commercial relations. London, Paris, New York and Philadelphia are to be the chief foreign centers. In short, its operations are to be endless. There is no doubt that China wants money and is most anxious to get all she can, but it is hard to believe that the viceroy will hand his country so completely over to the Americans as this scheme would lead one to suppose. The loans already successfully negotiated by the syndicate have been made in a way new to China, i.e., without having obtained the imperial decree, a fact which does not tend to lessen the astonishment with which the entire scheme filled the country. Strange to say, there is no mention made yet of the security to be given by China to the Americans for their money for the new bank, which will have even more important functions towards China than the Bank of England towards England.

"The entire basis of the concessions is very peculiar and the tide of public opinion here is against the project. However much we may stand in awe of its overwhelming proportions, the censors have apparently been thrown into consternation by this most daring move of the party of progress, headed by Li Hung Chang and the Marquis Tseng, and they have not yet memorialized the throne against it, although it is believed that the syndicate will have to fight the prejudices of these most potent forces in the realm. That the imperial treasury, despite the vast resources of the country, is in a crippled condition is shown by the fact that only last week a loan of over half a million pounds had to be borrowed from a French syndicate for carrying on the imperial household. There are many other rich syndicates in China, French and German principally, and they, along with various foreign banks, stand aghast at the magnitude of the American coup."

The Lee Monument Cornerstone.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 23.—Governor Lee has received a letter from Jefferson Davis in response to one from the governor of recent date inviting Mr. Davis to be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the R. E. Lee monument, on October 27. Mr. Davis says: "It has been my hope and expectation to be present, if possible, whenever the cornerstone should be laid of the monument in commemoration of my friend and compatriot, Robert E. Lee." Continuing, Mr. Davis says if his health permits he is pledged to attend a reunion of ex-Confederate soldiers who are to gather from all portions of the south at Macon, Ga., on October 26. The presence of Confederate soldiers being the prominent features of both these occasions should not, he adds, "be diminished by division, as must necessarily be the case unless your suggestion be practicable to change the date of one or the other so that it may be possible for the soldiers to attend both." Arrangements have been projected for making the laying of the cornerstone of the Lee monument an interesting event.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Col. W. P. Read, the big coal operator, is authority for the statement that before snow flies anthracite coal will be $9 or $10 per ton. He gives as reasons the recent advance in wages to the miners in the hard coal regions, the scarcity of the article and the interstate commerce law. Throughout the west and northwest the present scarcity almost amounts to a famine.

Four Hundred People Homeless. MONTREAL, Can., Sept. 23.—A furious fire is raging at Danby, Que., and already over one hundred houses have been consumed. It is feared that three children have been burned to death. The loss will probably be about $250,000, with little insurance, as the people are all poor. Over 400 people are homeless. All the telegraph wires are down and the Grand Trunk depot is in ruins.

INTERVIEW WITH GENERAL PRYOR.

The Constitutionality of the Illinois Jury Law to Be Tested.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Gen. Roger A. Pryor said last night that he could at present give very little information in regard to his plans.

He has not as yet seen the record of the trial before Judge Gary, which is very voluminous. "Of course," he said, "I have nothing whatever to do with the popular side of the case. I have no concern with the question of sympathy with the Anarchists or their case. I am retained simply as a lawyer, who is to endeavor to induce the supreme court to reverse the decision of the Illinois law regarding the construction of the jury. This has been in operation since 1874, and has not yet been passed upon by the supreme court. The law of Illinois relating to conspiracy will not enter into our appeal."

When questioned in regard to the report that the appeal would be laid before Justice Miller, Gen. Pryor said: "I know of no reason to believe that Justice Miller will have anything more to do with the case than his brother justices of the supreme bench. The supreme court is supposed to be, and I believe it is, elevated above all influence of popular clamor, whether inspired by sympathy with the Anarchists or hostility toward them, and will, no doubt, decide the question of law which is involved in a spirit of thorough impartiality."

E. B. Washburn's Condition.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The Hon. E. B. Washburn's condition was somewhat better to-day, although there are fears that the end is drawing near. He passed a somewhat restless night and at times was unconscious. This morning, however, he awoke and recognized those about him. Yesterday morning he was found lying on his couch in the room unconscious. Drs. McArthur and Lyman were hastily summoned and it was found that his right side was partially paralyzed, and he may, the physicians state, have had a slight stroke of apoplexy. This morning Mr. Hemstead Washburn stated that his father had also burst a blood-vessel at the back of his head.

Yearly Meeting of Friends.

PLAINFIELD, Ind., Sept. 23.—Yesterday was the second public day at the western yearly meeting of Quakers, and there were several thousand people in attendance. Devotional meeting held at 8 a. m., was of unusual interest. Public meetings for worship were held at 10 o'clock in the morning in each of the church rooms; also at the tent and from an open stand. In the afternoon Joseph Bevan Braithwaite, of London, England, a member of the queen's council, addressed an audience of 3,000 people in the worshiping edifice. The meeting closed to-day.

Confessed His Guilt.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 23.—Jack Debose, the negro arrested on suspicion of murdering the Woolfolk family at Canton, has confessed his guilt. His motive was revenge for alleged ill treatment by Capt. Woolfolk. Debose claims that he did not actually kill the people, but three negro accomplices entered the house and committed the butchery while Debose watched outside. He says he saw Tom Woolfolk jump from a window and run for his life. Tom, who has been under arrest for the crime, will doubtless be released.

Defective Air Brakes.

ELIDA, O., Sept. 23.—As the east bound express train on the Fort Wayne road was pulling into the siding at this place about 4 o'clock this morning, the west bound express train came thundering along and crashed through the mail car of the former train. The accident was caused by the airbrakes of the west bound train refusing to work. Engineer William Glenn, of Fort Wayne, was seriously injured by jumping. The mail clerks escaped uninjured. Three sacks of registered mail were destroyed.

Northern Indiana Drouth.

ELKHART, Ind., Sept. 23.—The long-continued drouth in this part of the state is the cause of general alarm among the manufacturers and farmers. The water in the river is now fully six feet lower than the lowest point it has reached for many years. Many of the paper mills and factories are running only half time for want of water power, thus getting behind on their orders. The want of pasturage is causing the farmers great uneasiness.

Seized for Smuggling.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 23.—The schooner Windsor, packet, has been seized at Weymouth for smuggling flour from Boston. The captain deposited a forfeit of $400 and sailed for Boston. The schooner Atwood has been seized at Lower Granville for smuggling glassware, also deposited $400 and was released. The schooner Levas is also reported in trouble.

Anarchists Lunge and Engel Talks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Herr Most's organ, Der Freiheit, contains a letter from Lunge and Engel, the condemned Chicago Anarchists, requesting their friends and comrades to abandon all efforts to secure justice for them. They declare it is useless to expect justice from the courts. Their execution, however, will hasten the downfall of tyranny.

MANY MINERS STILL IDLE.

THE GENERAL SITUATION OF AFFAIRS IN THE LEHIGH REGION.

Over Twenty-Two Thousand Miners Still Out in That Region Alone—Taking Their Tools From the Mines—Prospects of a Long and Obstinate Fight.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 23.—There is every prospect that the strike of the coal miners in the Lehigh region will be an obstinate and protracted one. The outlook on the miners' side of the trouble is for long continuance of the suspension. They are taking their tools from the mines as fast as they are allowed to enter and get them. The Hungarians in the Panther Creek valley have made application to the railroad company for two freight cars to load their tools so that they might leave the region altogether.

Meetings of the Knights of Labor have been held throughout the region, and a circular has been drawn up and sent to the miners of the Wyoming and Lackawanna valleys, asking for assistance. On the side of the operators there is said to be some signs of weakening. Several of the smaller companies have asked their men not to leave the region at present and one or two individual operators who cannot stand the loss incurred by their collieries standing idle are said to be ready to give the advance, but are restrained by the others.

The following companies and operators signified by written communication their desire to resume work at their collieries under the same agreement as the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company: Union Coal company, Mt. Carmel colliery, Garfield Coal company, Enterprise colliery and Jesse May & Co., Shamokin Crystal colliery, John R. Davis and Ellsworth colliery, New Castle. These are all in the Schuylkill region. As yet not a word has been spoken of resumption in the Lehigh region, where 22,000 men are still out.

Struck Against Non-Union Men.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—About two hundred men employed on the forty buildings on the Seventy-third, Seventy-fifth and Seventy-sixth streets, Baltimore and Eleventh avenues, struck this morning, because six or seven plumbers, who are non-union men, were allowed to work after their discharge had been ordered. The walking delegate of the Carpenter's union, Bob Farrell, entered one of the buildings and was arrested by a detective for trespassing. He was taken to the Harlem police court and paroled in custody of his counsel. The strikers claim to number 1,000, but the pay roll shows only about two hundred names. The strikers stopped work as soon as Farrell was arrested. There are about twenty-five men still at work on the buildings. The contractors will obtain new men as soon as possible.

Strike Prevented by a Compromise.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The West Division Conductors and Drivers' Benevolent association at its meeting early this morning accepted a compromise offered by President Jones. The company's agreement with the employees provides that no run shall call for less than ten hours work, and that if the cars are run in the men will be paid for the time specified on time tables, and that the pay for conductors and drivers will be twenty-one cents per hour, commencing October 1, 1887. The main question at issue was the question of hours, and the compromise was readily accepted by the men. Cars are running as usual this morning, much to the satisfaction of the west-siders.

Taken Back at Old Prices.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—Word was sent to the locked out cigarmakers this afternoon that the manufacturers had finally decided to take the men back at the old prices. The men hailed the decision with demonstrations of joy.

Prohibition Speaker Assaulted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A special to the World from Sutton's Bay, Mich., says: When it was known in town Tuesday night that William A. Taylor, the Prohibition state organizer, would speak in the school house on prohibition, H. and J. Douster and other saloon sympathizers announced their determination to prevent the meeting if possible. This they were unable to do, but during the lecture they paraded the streets with guns and tin pans, and then gathered around the hall as the meeting broke up to attack the speaker. Taylor left the hall in company with John Cadham and others. The attack began as soon as the party reached the front steps and was fierce and bloody. Cadham received the first blow and was knocked down and kicked, while the two Dousters, not recognizing Taylor, their special object of attack, cut and slashed at a man named Cozart instead. His life is despaired of. Taylor under cover of the darkness success in getting away unharmed. Several roughs chased him crying, "Kill him." No arrests have been made.

Arranging the Championship Series.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 23.—Presidents Vonder Ahe and Stearns are in session here making final arrangements for the championship series between the Detroit and Browns, prospective winners in the league and the association. There is some difficulty with the Detroit players who want $200 each for playing after the season is ended. This may limit the number of games to six, two each at St. Louis and Detroit and one each at Chicago and Cincinnati. Arrangements will not be completed until to-morrow.

A Cotton Fire.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Fire broke out on a lighter at the foot of John street, this afternoon and 600 bales of cotton, which she had just received from the steamship Carondelet were totally destroyed. KILLED IN A TUNNEL.

Two Men Crushed to Death by a Fall of Earth Near Wellston, O.

WELLSTON, O., Sept. 23.—A considerable fall of earth and rock occurred in tunnel No. 1, near Gamier Furnace, on the Dayton, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad Tuesday night, and a large force of section men were immediately put to work to remove it. The track was nearly cleared when another fall came without warning, shutting twelve men in the tunnel.

Working from within and without the fall was soon cleared, when it was found that S. Gallivan, of Hope Furnace, had been slightly injured, and William Burchfield, aged forty-one, and John Oshman, aged twenty-four, both residents of Zaleski, had been caught under the fall and instantly killed. Burchfield leaves a wife and five small children; Oshman was unmarried and lived with his mother. Both were much crushed and mangled. The bodies were brought to this place and were placed in neat caskets and sent to Zaleski by the orders and at the expense of the railroad company.

Another Railway Slaughter.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 23.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Gulf division of the Southern Kansas railroad at Guthrie, four miles south of Purcell, Indian Territory. A light engine and construction train collided while both were moving at a high rate of speed. The two engines and twelve freight cars were piled on a heap, and the list of killed and wounded is large. Engineer Charles Pearson, of the light engine, was fatally crushed, and his fireman, Charles Stewart, seriously hurt. It is rumored that a large number of the workmen were killed, but details are meager. Most reports say that eight to ten were killed or wounded.

Another Infernal Machine.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Police found a gaspne bomb at the Cottage Grove avenue car barn, on Thirty-ninth street, at 1 o'clock this morning. It was ten inches in length and two inches in diameter, and was incased in an ordinary sized starch box, and had the ordinary clockwork attachment for exploding. It was taken to the Staton avenue police station and examined, after which it was carried to an adjoining vacant lot for safe keeping. No clue has been obtained as yet as to who left the bomb in the barn.

The patients were liberated and roamed about the grounds raising a great commotion. The loss will exceed $25,000.

All are considered out of danger.

She Kept Her Word.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 23.—Nora and Katie Barrett, young ladies of this place, were toying with a revolver yesterday when Nora said, jokingly, "I will shoot you," and the weapon was discharged, lodging the ball in the shoulder of Katie, inflicting a serious wound. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The Midland railroad tax election is passing off very quietly. The city vote will favor the tax and the country against. The indications are that the proposition will be defeated for want of a constitutional majority.

MILLERSBURG will resist the removal of the Kentucky Wesleyan College from that place to Winchester, and will appeal to the courts. That has been expected all along.

The recent grand jury of Christian County returned eighty-one indictments for violations of the local option law. If prohibition laws don't prohibit, they make business for the lawyers.

The Southern Methodists at their recent conference at Covington passed resolutions setting aside the 12th day of November as a day of special prayer for the advancement of the temperance cause.

The people of West Union, O., pledged some $50,000, and the right of way to secure the extension of the railroad from Georgetown to that place. Colonel Ingalls, President of the company, says there will be no extension, but would probably operate the line—about twenty-two miles—if the people were to expend $250,000, or such a matter, the entire cost of its construction.

The recent Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, at Covington, Ky., passed the following:

WHEREAS, Great evils have grown out of excursion trains run to camp meetings upon Sunday, therefore

Resolved, That this conference disavows all connection with, and all responsibility for, camp meetings whose gates are opened upon the Sabbath day.

From the opinion of camp meetings in this section, conference would have done well to have made the resolution more general.

From the home of Mr. Randall and from that strenuous Democratic journal, the Philadelphia Record, comes the following, the truth of which few men in this county will question:

"Now that Mr. Carlisle has formally announced himself as a candidate for re-election to the Speakership, that matter may be looked upon as practically settled. Among all the able and fair men who have occupied the Speaker's chair not one was abler or fairer than John G. Carlisle. This much has been admitted by his political opponents."

"Throw Physic to the Dogs"

When it is the old-fashioned blue mass, blue pill sort, and insist on using Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," a modern medical luxury, being small, sugar-coated granules, containing the active principles of certain roots and herbs, and which will be found to contain as much cathartic power as any of the old-fashioned, larger pills, without the latter's violent, drastic effects. The pellets operate thoroughly but harmlessly, establishing a permanently healthy action of the stomach and bowels, and as an anti-bilious remedy are unequalled.

The expense of running the County Infirmary of Brown County, O., the past year amounted to over $9,300. There were eighty-five paupers on hand the last of August, of whom twenty-seven were harmless lunatics.

At the regular meeting of Power Campbell Camp, No. 164, Sons of Veterans, Tuesday night, there were several applications filed for membership. On Tuesday morning last Mr. Wm. Miller, a prominent young merchant doing business at Peebles, Adams County, Ohio, and Miss Kate Ellis, daughter of Hon. Jesse Ellis, took a buggy ride to Georgetown, where they were united in marriage. Their hosts of friends will join with the BULLETIN in wishing them a prosperous and happy life voyage.

It is a fact beyond all doubt that the DAILY BULLETIN is by odds the most popular paper coming to this town. There is not one more of them than any other paper delivered here daily. And Johnny, the carrier, with his jockey cap, is only second to the DAILY in popularity. We guess he has never been crossed in love, and that accounts for it.

M. J. McCarthy was doing our city Monday. We have known Mc from childhood's days and he is just the same. He is a straight and clever as can be. Although not school mates, we have bucked over many a game of "fat and go last." But whether we could beat Mc playing tads or out-counting him, memory don't distinctly say at this distant period.

One by one the roses fall. The absorbing topic is who is going to win the memorial traces next. The rumor of several marriages in prospect, but whether the boys will stand fire or not is another matter. It is no use to warn the them that marriage is a solemn institution. They will be fully realized when they are trying to build a fire on a forty degree below zero morning, especially when the chimney has fallen in the due during the night.

Mrs. W. B. Sutton and son, Otis, attended the Manchester fair Wednesday. Master Otis was one of the contestants in the riding match and for the second time at the same fair carried off the first premium. There were four contestants in the match but Master Otis by his superior riding won the premium and prize money. To say that he is a wonderful rider for one of his age is drawing it mild as his numerous matches testify—always coming out first best over his competitors.

On last Monday evening a young man by the name of Porter, in whom the milk of humanity is certainly below eb, buggy whipped the seven-year-old son of John Huron until the blood flowed. It seems that some young men were calling Porter names and they were too big presumably to tackle and so he jumped aboard of the little fellow and whipped him unmercifully. Only for the interference of the bystanders and doubt he would have beaten the child to death. One being arraigned before Mayor Carr he was fined $1, and costs—a light sentence for such a deed.

What a Street Car Driver Says.

It makes a mighty sight of difference with a fellow to know his horses. By always driving the same team the horses get so that they know what you are doing. Some men cannot drive a team on the road at all unless they have a pole between the horses, and a pole is an awful nuisance in street car driving, especially in cases of threatened accident. In the seven years that I have been driving I have had many narrow escapes by being able to turn the horses quickly to one side or the other. You can't do that with a pole. I have never had anything to happen to me beyond the smashing of a window. That happened once in front of the Astor house, where a truckman was backing out with a load. The worst trouble we have is with the women who go out into the middle of the street and dodge back and forth. If they would stand still we would know just what to do with our car and our horses, but they make a dash across the street, then jump back, and then dash forward, and then make another dash back, so that in the uncertainty of what they are going to do it is a wonder that we do not run over a woman every day.

The general average of street car drivers have their wits so much about them that if a person who happens to get in front of a car will only stand still there is not the slightest danger of his being run over. Most of the men in New York have come to understand this, and you rarely hear of an accident in which a man is run over by a street car. How many people do we take up and down on the route? Well, that depends on the hour of our trip. On this trip, on which I started at 10 o'clock, we will probably have eighty fares going down to the Battery. Later in the day coming up we have as high as 120, and from that on up to 180. Of course, the more passengers we take on the harder it is to make our trip on time and the more work it is for the drivers.—New York Tribune Interview.

Couldn't Read His Own Handwriting.

During the war a quantity of personal property belonging to a resident of Washington was seized and confiscated by the United States. For years the original owner made repeated attempts to secure an order for its restoration from the quartermaster who had charge of it. But he was unfortunate, and insisted that it should be restored only through an act of congress. Still the attorney for the plaintiff persisted, and again he wrote to Quartermaster General Meigs for an order of restoration. This was about the seventh attempt, and the officer had grown impatient. He wrote an exceedingly vigorous reply, in which he emphatically refused to do as requested. The handwriting was frightful. The attorney saw his chance. He hastened to his client, and thrusting the letter to him, said, "I have succeeded at last. Here is the order." The "order" was taken to the corral, where the officer in charge recognized the signature and at once turned over the property. When Gen. Meigs asked what had become of it he was told that it had been restored on his order. He saw the order, and as he could not read it, he simply said: "I do not remember signing it."—Boston Transcript.

General Miles' New Plan.

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Gen. Miles has adopted a new plan to familiarize the troops with the Indian country. A party of soldiers has left Fort Huachuca for Fort Apache, 250 miles north. They will be pursued by troops from all Southern Arizona posts. If not caught before reaching Fort Apache, they will turn about and try to catch their pursuers, who will retreat upon Fort Huachuca.

Pacific Railroad Investigation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The members of the Pacific railroad commission were on hand at 10 o'clock this morning to resume their labors. Mr. Huntington was not. At half past that hour he appeared. After some desultory conversation Mr. Huntington took the stand and the examination into the different letters sent to Colton was again entered upon.

Made Them Feel Easier.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The announcement of the treasury department that it would make daily purchases until October 8, of both four and four-and-a-half per cent bonds at 108, 4 for the latter, and 125 for the former, to the extent of $14,000,000, would anticipate the payment of $5,000,000 interest due October 1, without rebate, on September 29, caused a much better feeling in financial and mercantile circles to-day.

Great Loss by Floods in Arizona.

TUSCON, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Citizens who have returned from San Pedro, state that all the crops on the bottom lands between Mammoth and Benson have been entirely destroyed by the recent floods. Fields of growing cane and corn are now but a bed of sand. Such a rush of waters have never before been known. It will take several years before the ranchers can recover from their losses.

The Interstate Commission.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The interstate commerce commission held another session in this city yesterday and considered the charges against the Central Vermont Railroad company. It appeared that the Boston & Albany Railway company and the Vermont State grange complained of the Central Vermont company for charging a less rate, in similar service, for a long than for a short haul over its lines between Boston and Detroit, Milwaukee and Chicago. The commission decided that the rates were illegal and ordered the company to cease charging more for the short than for the long hauls. The commission adjourned to meet in Washington.

An Ex-Governor's Son Robbed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—P. R. Scott, Jr., son of ex-Governor Scott, of Arkansas, reported to the police yesterday that he had been robbed of $4,500 in notes and $500 in money. He had sold his interest in a business in Kansas, and arrived at the Tremont house Tuesday on his way to Napoleon, O. That evening he went to the theater, and on returning to the hotel found that a pocket-book, containing the notes and money, had been stolen. It is supposed that his pocket was picked in the crowd as he was leaving the theater.

A Mystery.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 23.—The autopsy on the body of Lillie Hoyte, found in a barn in Oxford, fails to reveal the cause of her death. She was found to be pregnant, but no abortion had been performed. It is supposed that she was suffocated by the straw that was found wrapped around her head, or that death was caused by the use of chloroform. There is no clue to the cause of her death.

EBENEZER PRESBYTERY.

Closing of the Session at Covington. Part of the Proceedings.

The session of the Ebenezer Presbytery at Covington closed yesterday. The Presbytery embraces a district composed of all the eastern part of Kentucky. The Cincinnati Post says: "This Presbytery includes most of the destitute parts of the Kentucky mountains. The reports from the mountain district were listened to with great earnestness. The work of Mountain Missionary Cooper was highly commended. Progress has characterized the efforts of the Southern Church in the mountains. Churches have been established at Jackson, Breathitt County; Irvine, Estill County, and Beattyville, Owsley County. Efforts are being directed to Morehead, and they hope soon to enter upon the work there under favorable auspices. The Home Missionary Board is making a strenuous effort to supply destitute churches of the Presbytery.

Revs. E. H. Rutherford, of Paris, and Russell Cecil, of this city, were appointed to conduct the foreign missionary meeting at the next spring session of the Presbytery. The Committee on General Assembly reported action of that body enjoining more strict and general observance of the Sabbath, more Sabbath school work, religious services in the family, adjustment of the Book of Church order so as to harmonize with the actions of that body, allowing the Ruling Elder to act as Moderator.

During the session an address was delivered by Rev. W. R. Laird on the present abuses of Sabbath-schools and their corrections. Address of W. G. Lord on "Teachers' Meeting, Its Importance, and How to Conduct It." An address by Dr. Rutherford on "The Superintendent and his Qualifications." The "Question Box," was conducted by Rev. A party who is here from Phoenixville, Pa., offered to make a bet within the past day or so that, if living, he would be at this place within four years from now helping to build a bridge across the Ohio river. The Columbus and Maysville Railroad may be built some of these days.

Death of Miss Ella Crum.

A telegram was received here yesterday announcing the death of Miss Ella Crum at Asheville, N. C., the day before. The deceased was about eighteen years of age, and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crum who removed from this city last spring. She had spent several years in this city, and was loved and admired by her large circle of friends. Miss Crum had been at Asheville the past summer teaching music, and was meeting with success. Her remains were interred at that place yesterday afternoon.

"The Bad Boy."

Hardy & Young's excellent company, supporting Phil S. Greiner and the Melville sisters, Ida, Rose and little Eva, will present the above laughable four-act comedy, with Phil Greiner in the title role, at Washington Opera House next Tuesday evening. The company will play at Portsmouth, O., the evening before their appearance here, and the Tribune says:

"The Melville sisters are well known to Portsmouth audiences, having played a very successful week's engagement here last season to the satisfaction and delight of all. Mr. Greiner, also, is well known to Portsmouth play-goers, having been here on several occasions before. Mr. Harry Hardy, the popular cornet soloist, will appear in a choice selection of solos, for which he has gained a name among the first in the long list of American cornetists. Of the play itself, we can say that no more laughable comedy will be seen in our city this season. While it abounds with humor a well directed and interesting plot is carried out, and in the hands of this company we assure our readers of a good evening's entertainment."

CHARLES GREENWOOD, of the Paint Store, Zweigart's Block, has been awarded the contract for painting James M. Mitchell's handsome new residence in the vicinity of Mayslick. The building will be ready for the brush in a few days.

CHARLES MEHAGAN, of Chicago, and Miss Virgie Kelly were married Wednesday at the home of Hon. G. C. Lockhart, a brother-in-law of the bride, at Paris.

At Paris, two of James Grinnell's children, both very young, were playing doctor the other evening, when each was given some seed of the Jimson weed. They were in a critical condition at last accounts.

THE marriage of Robert C. Owens and Miss Julia Wood is announced to take place on the 5th of next month. The groom to be is the eldest son of Colonel and Mrs. Frank S. Owens, of this city. Miss Wood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, of Washington.

NO ONE seems to know what is to be done with the gas well. S. S. Ramsey, who sunk the well, arrived at the European Hotel last night. He saw R. W. Evans, the contractor, at Cincinnati this week, but he doesn't know what is to be done—whether the well is to be sunk any deeper or not.

THE Mason County Building and Saving Association has decided to open its seventh series of stock. The series will begin the first Saturday of October. Books for the subscription of stock are now open at George T. Wood's drug store, the Bank of Maysville and at J. James Wood's drug store.

LEWISBURG presented a very animated appearance yesterday, it being regular court day, with Squire Isaac McIlvaine presiding. The docket was a pretty good one. Several closely contested cases. The following attorneys were in attendance: George W. Sulser, Thomas R. Phister, Clarence L. Sallee and L. W. Galbraith.

REV. JERE WITHERSPOON, a former pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city, took part in the recent Constitutional Centennial at Philadelphia. At the conclusion of President Cleveland's address, Mr. Witherspoon pronounced the benediction that closed the interesting exercises. He is now a resident of Nashville, Tenn.

HENRY EGLER will not sue the town of Flemingsburg for damages for the fatal accident that happened to his family at that place a few weeks ago. It will be remembered that Egler's wife—a sister of the Pugh brothers in jail here for safe keeping—was instantly killed by a balky team backing a wagon over an embankment at that place. His children, who were also in the vehicle, were somewhat injured by the accident. Egler has accepted $25 as a full discharge of all claims for any damages which he might have against the town.

GEORGE WALTERS, the boy who was shot at Morehead the other day by young Tolliver, was still living at last accounts, but his physician has no hopes of his recovery. A party writing from Morehead says: "The belief is that the boy was shot on purpose, because his father had taken an active part in having Hiram Pigman cleared. Tolliver's two boys and Pete Dillon's boy each had pistols. There will be some investigations made. The two Tolliver boys are aged respectively ten and twelve and Dillon fifteen years."

SOME of the people of Catlettsburg are on their ear at the rather high-handed way in which Mr. C. P. Huntington—or, more correctly, the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad Company—is trying to run things up there. By the provisions of the ordinance granting the company the right of way through that town, the grading was not to exceed one foot above the level of the street. In face of this the company made the grade four feet above the street. The town council has taken hold of the matter and has passed an ordinance calling upon the company to reduce the grade of the road to the level required by the original ordinance. A penalty of five dollars a day is attached for each day the company allows the grade to remain at the present elevation.

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity."

Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, Asthma, croup and every affection of throat, chest and lungs. Trial bottles free (Large size $1.00) at the Drug Stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with phthisis, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

ESCAPED FROM SIBERIA.

THE THRILLING STORY OF A LUCKY NIHILIST.

He Tells of a Plan to Liberate All the Political Prisoners From That Land. Four Bombs Thrown in Front of the Vatican—One Enters the Barracks.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A Russian political exile, who recently made his escape from Siberia, has been entertaining a select coterie of Bohemians in London for some few weeks by the relation of his adventurous escape from his Siberian jailers and the hardships which he endured in his attempt to regain his liberty. He is a middle-aged man of pleasant appearance, and speaks English well, as most educated Russians do. He gives his name as Baker, having assumed this name since he reached London. The story of his escape is most thrilling.

He, with numerous companions, was sent into exile in 1911 for implication in some discovered plot against the czar's life, and immured within one of Siberia's interior villages, surrounded by vast tracts of ice and snow. Here the prisoners were left in the keeping of a few guards, but they were prevented from escaping far more effectively by fear of becoming the prey of the fierce wolves, whose baying at night could be distinctly heard on all sides of the village. The idea and hope of escape never leaves an exile's mind, says Baker, and his absorbing thought was how to reach freedom, and the hope of accomplishing this remains with an exile until death. The exiles were obliged to go into the forest near by and cut what wood they used. One day while he and a companion were securing their supply of wood they accidentally came upon a small opening concealed by an evergreen tree, which led to a good sized cave. There was a means of escape.

The two exiles kept the matter secret and removed day by day to the cave such of their provisions as they could spare without exciting attention. When the cave was stocked with food enough to last for some time if frugally used, the men prepared to take their departure from exile and began the hard, doubtful struggle for liberty. One day they went out for food, but did not return. Search was made for them and the country scoured, but having thrown their pursuers off the track the exiles lived securely for two weeks within sight of their recent place of confinement. At the end of that time they came out of their hiding place and began a journey full of hair-breadth escapes and shocking sufferings. After innumerable dangers from wolves, from Cossacks, from freezing and starvation, they finally reached civilization, but Baker's companion died soon after their escape from the effects of the terrible exposures.

Baker says that there is an organized movement on foot among nihilists to effect the escape of a large number of prominent political exiles, and that the arrangement for the accomplishment of the plan are most extensive. Nihilists in all parts of the world have contributed to the fund necessary to carry out the design, which will soon be put into operation.

Davitt Sails for America.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 23.—Michael Davitt was among the passengers on the White Line steamer Britannic which sailed hence for New York to-day. Before leaving Cork Mr. Davitt said that his visit to America was made in the interest of private business and that would be a short one.

Killed by a Premature Discharge.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Sept. 23.—Oros Grosso, one of the Springfield battery, Ohio National guards, who was badly wounded by the premature discharge of a cannon with which a salute was being fired after the dedication of the Ohio memorials on the 14th, died yesterday morning from lock-jaw. He has been at a hotel here, and his condition was better until in the evening, when lock-jaw set in. His remains were taken to his home at once.

Corporal Grisso Brought Home.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 23.—The remains of Corporal Grisso, the victim of the cannon prematurely discharged at Gettysburg, arrived at noon. She arrived this evening. The funeral will occur tomorrow.

Fidelity Property at Auction.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—D. Armstrong, receiver of the Fidelity National bank, filed a petition yesterday through his attorneys, District Attorney Burnett and E. W. Kirtland, praying for leave to sell at public or private sale the personal and real property of the Fidelity National bank. At 10 a. m. Judge Sage granted Receiver Armstrong an order to dispose of the real and personal property of the Fidelity bank at public or private sale, as prayed for in the petition. The real property consists of property on Walnut Hills and Broadway, valued at between $50,000 and $60,000, and the personal property and office fixtures of the bank.

Done by Sneak Thieves.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 23.—The recent disappearance of $23,000 from the Union national bank here turns out to be the work of an adroit sneak thief, who abstracted the package from the vault while the bank officers were examining a number of checks, which had just been presented. The detectives are certain that the money has not yet left the city, and claim to have scotched the thief or thieves, none of whom are connected with the bank. The loss was discovered within twenty minutes after the theft.

Scot Down on the Platform to Rest.

SCOTDAVEN, Pa., Sept. 23.—Thomas Madden and Adam Williams were run over by a Baltimore & Ohio coal train engine going east, at Suter station, last night. Madden was killed instantly and Williams was fatally injured. They sat down on the end of the platform to rest, and falling asleep, did not hear the train. The mangled bodies were picked up by the trainmen and taken to West Newton, Pa., to their families.
